JOINT PROPOSED EXAMINATION OF PROSPECTIVE JURORS

The Government and the Defendants jointly request, pursuant to Rule 24(a) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, that the Court include the following questions in its examination of prospective jurors. The parties respectfully request that the Court pursue more detailed questioning if a particular juror's answer reveals that further inquiry is appropriate and, in such an instance, to conclude with an inquiry into whether the particular fact or circumstance would influence the juror in favor of or against either the Government or a Defendant, or otherwise affect the juror's ability to serve as a fair and impartial juror in this case.

INTRODUCTION

This is a criminal case. The Defendants on trial, Anthony Murgio, Michael Murgio, Yuri Lebedev, and Trevon Gross, have been charged with the commission of federal crimes in an Indictment filed by a grand jury sitting in this District.

The Indictment is not evidence. It simply contains the charges that the Government is required to prove to the satisfaction of the jury beyond a reasonable doubt. I will summarize the charges in this case in order to determine whether there is anything about the nature of this case that may make it difficult or inappropriate for any of you to serve on the jury.

CASE DESCRIPTION

This case concerns a Florida-based entity known as Coin.mx that allegedly dealt in bitcoins. According to the Indictment, bitcoins are an anonymous, decentralized form of electronic currency that exist entirely on the Internet and not in any physical form. Bitcoins are not illegal, and thus, to buy, sell, hold, or transfer them is not illegal in and of itself. The Indictment alleges that Coin.mx was a website that allowed its customers, including customers in the Southern District of New York, to convert United States currency into bitcoins, and vice versa, and to transmit bitcoins and currency to other accounts.

Anthony Murgio is charged with several crimes in connection with the operation of Coin.mx. First, he is charged with operating Coin.mx as an unlicensed money transmitting business. Second, he is charged with wire fraud based upon alleged misrepresentations that he made to banks and other entities in connection with the operation of Coin.mx. Third, he is charged with money laundering in connection with Coin.mx's operations. Fourth, he is charged with conspiring, or agreeing, with others to commit each of these alleged crimes. Michael Murgio, Yuri Lebedev, and Trevon Gross are not charged with any of these crimes.

Anthony Murgio, Michael Murgio, and Yuri Lebedev are charged with participating in a conspiracy to make, and with making, corrupt payments to Trevon Gross, an officer of a federal credit union in New Jersey named HOPE Federal Credit Union, which Anthony Murgio tried to acquire control of in furtherance of Coin.mx's operations.

Trevon Gross is charged with accepting corrupt payments with the intent to be influenced in connection with the business of HOPE Federal Credit Union.

The Defendants [have pleaded not guilty to/deny] all the charges in the Indictment. [The Government proposes that the phrase “have pleaded not guilty to” be used in this sentence. The Defendants object and propose that the word “deny” be used instead.]

NATURE OF CHARGES

1. Do any of you have any personal knowledge of the charges in the Indictment in this case? Have any of you read or heard anything about this case? If so, is there anything you have read or heard that has caused you to feel that you cannot decide the issues of this case fairly and impartially?

2. As I just explained, the Indictment alleges crimes related to the operation of an online Bitcoin exchange. Have you ever heard of Bitcoin? Have any of you ever purchased or used bitcoins? Have any of you ever purchased or used anything similar, like Ether or Litecoin? If so, is there anything about your experience with Bitcoin or those others that might prevent you from being fair and impartial in this case?

3. In this case you are expected to hear evidence about Florida state licensing laws and federal registration requirements governing certain businesses involved in transferring or transmitting money or funds to other individuals or locations for a fee. These businesses are referred to as money transmitters. [The Defendants object to the previous language in blue.] Do any of you have an opinion about licensing, registration, and other laws and regulations that govern the financial system, including money transmitting businesses, credit unions, and banks, that might prevent you from being fair and impartial in this case?

4. In this case you are expected to hear evidence that Coin.mx processed Bitcoin transactions involving victims of ransomware schemes. Ransomware is a type of malicious software, or malware, that restricts access to an infected computer system and demands that the user pay a ransom, sometimes in bitcoins, to the malware operators in order to remove the restriction. The Indictment alleges that Coin.mx facilitated victims' purchases of bitcoins so that the victims could pay ransoms to hackers to regain control of their computers. Have you, a family member, or a close friend, ever been a victim of a ransomware scheme or another crime involving Bitcoin? If so, would that experience make it difficult for you to be fair and impartial in this case?

5. In this case you are expected to hear evidence that involves countries other than the United States, including Israel and Russia. Would such evidence affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case? Have you ever traveled outside the country? If so, is there anything about that experience that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

6. In this case you are expected to hear evidence about written contracts and agreements. Does anyone believe that when you read a contract or agreement that there is only one way for it to be interpreted? [The Government objects to this paragraph.]

7. Have any of you ever started a new company or organization or engaged in other entrepreneurial activities? If so, is there anything about that experience that would prevent you from being fair and impartial in this case?

8. In this case you are expected to hear evidence about alleged breaches of fiduciary duties by board members of an organization. [The Defendants object to the previous sentence.] Have any of you ever served as a board member of any type of company or organization? Would anything about that experience affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

9. In this case, one of the Defendants is a pastor of a church. Do you have any views about religion or religious institutions that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case? Do you have any views about clergy members that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

10. This case involves alleged corrupt payments to an officer of a credit union. [The Defendants object to the previous sentence.] Have any of you ever been a member of a credit union? Would anything about that experience affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

11. Do any of you have any particular feelings or policy views about the types of crimes at issue in this trial – that is, conspiracy, operating an unlicensed money transmitting business, bank bribery, wire fraud, and money laundering – that would cause you to be unable to judge this case fairly and impartially, or unable to reach your verdict based solely on the evidence and the law as I give it to you? [The Defendants object to this paragraph.]

12. Do you have an opinion that conspiracy should not be a crime? Do you have an opinion that operating an unlicensed money transmitting business, bank bribery, wire fraud, or money laundering should not be crimes? [The Defendants object to this paragraph.]

35. Have you, a relative, or a close friend, ever worked as or had interaction with an educator, principal, or administrator at a school that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

PRIOR JURY SERVICE AND LAWSUITS

36. Have you ever been a juror in a criminal or civil case, or served on a grand jury, state or federal? If yes, what type of case was it? When was it? Did you deliberate, and did the jury reach a verdict (without stating what the verdict was)?

37. Have you, a relative, or a close friend, ever appeared as a witness at a deposition, trial, hearing, or a grand jury investigation?

38. Have you, a relative, or a close friend, ever been a plaintiff or a defendant in a state or federal court case, whether criminal or civil?

LAW ENFORCEMENT TECHNIQUES

39. The witnesses in this case may include law enforcement witnesses. Would any of you be more or less likely to believe a witness merely because he or she is a law enforcement officer?

40. Some of the evidence admitted at trial may come from searches performed by law enforcement officers. I instruct you that those searches were legal and that the evidence obtained from those searches is admissible in this case. Do any of you have strong feelings about searches conducted by law enforcement officers or the use of evidence obtained from searches that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case? [The Defendants object to this paragraph.]

41. Some of the evidence in this trial may come from the use of undercover law enforcement officers. Do any of you have strong feelings about the use of undercover law enforcement officers that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

42. Some of the witnesses called by the Government may have past criminal convictions, or may have been involved in some of the crimes charged in the indictment. Some of these witnesses have pleaded guilty and are testifying pursuant to cooperation agreements with the Government. Some of these witnesses may be hoping that their cooperation will result in a reduced sentence or some other benefit. Do any of you have strong feelings about the use of this type of witness that would affect your ability to be fair and impartial in this case?

43. Do any of you have any expectations about the types of evidence that the Government should or will present in this criminal trial, or in a criminal trial more generally? Would any of you be unable to follow my instructions that the Government is not required to use any particular investigative technique to uncover evidence of a crime?

44. You may hear evidence in this trial of criminal activity committed by people other than the Defendants. Those other individuals are not on trial here. You may not draw any inference, favorable or unfavorable, towards the Government or the trial Defendants from that fact. You also may not speculate as to the reason why other persons are not currently on trial. Is there any juror who cannot follow these instructions or who for this reason would have difficulty rendering a fair and impartial verdict? [The Defendants object to this paragraph.]

FUNCTION OF THE COURT AND JURY

45. The function of the jury is to decide questions of fact. As a juror, you are the sole judge of the facts. However, when it comes to the law, you are to take your instructions from the Court and you are bound by those instructions. At the conclusion of this case, your job will be to determine whether or not each defendant is guilty as charged in the Indictment. Would any of you have any difficulty accepting and applying these legal principles?

46. Do any of you have any legal training, or any family members or close friends who are attorneys? If so, would this make it difficult for you to apply the law as I explain it?

47. A Defendant in a criminal case has the right not to testify. If any Defendant here does not testify, the jury may not draw any inference against that Defendant based on his decision. The fact that a Defendant chooses not to testify may not enter into the jury's deliberation at all. Would any of you have any difficulty accepting and applying this legal principle?

48. Under the law, a person is presumed to be innocent and cannot be found guilty of a crime charged in the indictment unless a jury, after having heard all of the evidence in the case, unanimously decides that the evidence proves that person's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. Would any of you have difficulty accepting and applying this legal principle?

49. In a criminal case the burden of proof always remains with the Government. For the jury to return a verdict of guilty against a defendant, the Government must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant is guilty. A person charged with a crime has absolutely no burden to prove that he is not guilty. Would any of you have difficulty accepting and applying this legal principle?

50. You are required by law to make your decision based solely on the evidence or lack of evidence presented in court, and not on the basis of conjecture, suspicion, sympathy, or prejudice. Would any of you have difficulty accepting and applying this legal principle?

51. The question of punishment is for the Court alone to decide, and the possible punishment must not enter into your deliberations as to whether each defendant on trial here is guilty. Would any of you have difficulty accepting this legal principle?

52. Sympathy must not enter into the deliberations of the jurors as to guilt or non-guilt of each defendant, and only the evidence produced in Court may be used by you to determine the guilt or non-guilt of each defendant. Would any of you have difficulty accepting this legal principle?

53. Do any of you feel that even if the evidence established a Defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt, you might not be able to render a guilty verdict for reasons unrelated to the law and the evidence?

54. Do you have any views about race or religion that would make it difficult for you to be fair and impartial?

55. Do you have any political, philosophical, or other beliefs that would make it difficult for you to be fair and impartial?

56. Do you believe if a person is charged with a crime, he or she probably did something wrong? Please explain. [The Government objects to this paragraph.]

57. Do you believe that innocent people can be wrongfully accused of crimes? [The Government objects to this question.]

58. Does the fact that these Defendants were indicted change your view of them? If yes, please explain. [The Government objects to this paragraph.]

59. Can you return a not guilty verdict even if the defense does not present any evidence or ask any questions? [The Government objects to this question.]

60. Can you return a not guilty verdict if the Government fails to prove the elements of the charged offenses beyond a reasonable doubt? [The Government objects to this question.]

61. If a Defendant testifies, would you be suspicious of his testimony simply because he is accused? [The Government objects to this question.]

GENERAL QUESTIONS

62. Do you have a problem with your hearing or vision, or any other medical problem that would prevent you from giving full attention to the evidence presented at trial?

63. Are you taking any medication that would prevent you from giving your full attention to the evidence presented at this trial?

64. Do you have any difficulty in reading or understanding English?

65. In these questions, I have tried to direct your attention to possible reasons why you might not be able to serve as a fair and impartial juror. Aside from the previous questions I have asked, does any juror have the slightest doubt in his or her own mind, for any reason whatsoever, about his or her ability to conscientiously, fairly, and impartially serve in this case and to render a true and just verdict without fear, favor, sympathy, or prejudice towards either the Government or the Defendants, and according to the law as I will explain you?

From this point until the time when you retire to deliberate your verdict, it is your duty not to discuss this case, and not to remain in the presence of other persons who may be discussing this case. It is your duty not to discuss this case among yourselves or with others, or to permit others to speak to you about this case. If at any time during the course of this trial, any person attempts to talk to you or to communicate with you about this case, either in or out of the courthouse, you should immediately report such an attempt to me through my deputy clerk. In this regard, let me explain to you that the attorneys, the Defendants, and the witnesses in a case are not supposed to talk to jurors, not even to offer a friendly greeting.
